INTRODUCTION

The ANNUAL REPORT ON DENTAL EDUCATION, 1991/92 is a summary of the information contained in the twenty-fifth annual Survey of Predoctoral Dental Educational Institutions. The questionnaire, mailed to all dental schools in August 1991, represents the collective action of the Council on Dental Education of the American Dental Association and the American Association of Dental Schools.

The 1991/92 survey employed a four group questionnaire:

GROUP I	General Information
GROUP II	Students
GROUP III	Financial Management
GROUP IV	Curriculum

Also included in this annual report is faculty information compiled from data obtained from the American Association of Dental School's Survey of Dental Educators; 1991/92.

The information included in the ANNUAL REPORT ON DENTAL EDUCATION is divided into seven sections: dental schools, academic programs and admissions, enrollment, graduates, student educational expenses, dental school programs, and faculty positions. Besides this report, there are two other annual reports on dental education, namely, advanced dental education and allied dental education. In addition, supplements are available which report information from the survey that is not included in this report.

DENTAL SCHOOLS

TABLE 4 lists the institutional names, names of deans, and addresses for the 55 fully operational dental schools in the United States and the 10 dental schools in Canada.

ACADEMIC PROGRAMS AND ADMISSIONS

TABLE 5 provides a description of the academic programs of the dental schools in the United States and Canada. Data in the table provides information on the type and length of the term at each dental school, the minimum and maximum length of the academic year and the total length of the program expressed in numbers of weeks required. A description of the type of academic program at each dental school is also included. For the academic year 1991-92, there are 53 dental schools in the United States that have a four academic year-four calender year (4-4) program, while one school, the University of the Pacific, has a four academic year-three calender year (4-3) program, and another, the Harvard School of Dental Medicine, has a five academic year-five calender year (5-5) program.

Eighteen dental schools award a D.M.D., and 37 grant a D.D.S. degree. The source of support for each school is also listed in Table 5, according to one of the three following classifications: public, private, and private-state related. Of the 55 dental schools in the United States, 35 dental schools are classified as public, 11 as private and 9 as private-state related.

TABLE 6 reports the admission policies for transfer students and foreign dental graduates in dental schools in the United States and Canada. Eleven percent (6) of the dental schools in the United States will not allow transfer students to enter their programs at any level other than first-year standing. Fifty-six percent (31) of the dental schools in the United States will allow these students to enter with first-year standing. There are 34 (62%) dental schools which will allow these students to enter with second year standing. Thirty (55%) schools will allow transfer students to begin with third year standing while only twelve (22%) dental schools will allow these students to enter with fourth year standing.

For foreign dental graduates, 45% (25) of the dental schools in the United States will allow these students to enter with first-year standing, and 44% (24) with second year standing. Thirty-eight percent (21) of the schools will allow foreign dental graduates to begin with third year standing, whereas 4% (2) of the dental schools will allow these graduates to enter with fourth year standing.

ENROLLMENT

TABLE 7 reports the level of education achieved by dental students prior to enrollment in dental school. Of the 4,047 first-year dental students enrolled in the United States dental schools for 1991-92, 139 had completed two years of predental education; 658 had three years of predental education; and 626 had completed four years without receiving a bachelor's degree. Of the remaining 2,624 students, 2,488 entered with a bachelor's degree and 63 had a master's or Ph.D. degree.

A comparison of the 1990-91 and 1991-92 first-year classes shows that the percentage of students accepted with two years of predental education has decreased from 4.1% to 3.4%. The percentage of students with an advanced degree decreased from 4.1% in 1990-91 to 3.3% in 1991-92. During the 1991-92 year, 16.3% (658 students) had three years of predental education compared with 17.7% (710 students) last year; 15.5% (626 students) had four years without a degree, compared with 14.0% (561 students) last year; and the percentage of those with a baccalaureate degree increased to 61.5% (2,488) from 60.1% (2,403). A comparison in the level of predental education of first-year dental students between 1987 and 1991 has been illustrated in Figure 1.

Total and first-year enrollments as well as graduates from U.S. dental schools has been illustrated for the years in Figure 2. Total enrollment in dental schools had increased steadily each year up to 1981-82 with the greatest increase occurring between 1977-78 and 1978-79, when enrollment went up by 3.1%. This year, for the eleventh time, total enrollment in dental schools has dropped, from 15,951 in 1990-91 to 15,882 in 1991-92. The 1991-92 first-year enrollment of 4,047 is the second straight year in which the number of first-year students increased. This year, for the first time in nine years, first-year enrollment is greater than the number of graduates.

TABLE 8 shows the enrollment distribution of the predoctoral dental students classified by school, class and sex. The 1991 first-year class in U.S. dental schools of 4,047 students represents a 1.15% increase from last year's enrollment of 4,001 and a 35.8% decrease from the first-year enrollment in 1978--the last year until 1990 that the number of first-year students increased.

An analysis of the enrollment information on women dental students indicates that the number continues to rise gradually. The percentage of women this year was 35.6%, while the percentage last year was 34.4%.

TABLE 2 compares the number of women enrolled with the total number of students enrolled for 1991-92. The percentage of first-year women enrolled for 1991-92 decreased from that of 1990-91, from 38.0% in 1990 to 36.3% in 1991.

TABLE 9 and 10 show the geographic distribution of dental students in the United States and Canada. Table 9 indicates the distribution of the first-year students, and Table 10 shows the distribution of all predoctoral students regarding residency by state.

TABLE 11 shows the first-year, minority enrollment in dental schools in the United States for 1991-92. The percentage of Black, first-year students decreased from 6.6% (265 students) in 1990-91 to 6.3% (255 students) in 1991-92. The percentage of Hispanic students has decreased from 7.0% (280 students) to 6.8% (274 students). The percentage of Native American students did not change, 0.3% (10 students) in 1990-91 and 0.3% (11 students) in 1991-92. The percentage of Asian students has increased from 16.0% (641 students) in 1990 to 17.7% (715 students) in 1991.

TABLE 12 presents the first-year enrollment in dental schools in the United States and Canada from 1987 to 1991. For United States schools, the peak first-year enrollment of 6,301 was reached in 1978. There had been an average decrease in enrollment of 4.1% per year between 1978 and 1989. This is the second year since 1978 where first year enrollment has increased. In addition, Table 12, reports for 1990-91 and 1991-92 the number of repeating students reported by each dental school.

GRADUATES

TABLE 13 reports the number of dental school graduates by ethnic classification and sex during 1991. There were 3,995 graduates from United States dental schools, a decrease of 5.6% from last year's total of 4,233 graduates.

STUDENT EDUCATIONAL EXPENSES

TABLE 14 lists the first-year tuition costs, general fees and other educational expenses paid by dental students in support of their education. The "other" educational expenses, broken down by class year, include instruments, supplies, textbooks, and all other fixed fees, exclusive of tuition, living and health service costs. The average first-year tuition costs incurred by state residents in all dental schools in the United States amounted to $10,058; the average general fee costs for these schools is $515, making the average total tuition and general fees for 1991-92 first-year students $10,573. This is a 7.2% increase from last year's average. The out-of-state residents paid an average tuition of $15,387. Adding the average general fees of $515, the total tuition plus fees costs are $15,902, an increase of 8.2% over last year.

TABLE 15 reports the amount of financial assistance awarded in 1990-91 by dental schools in the United States.

TABLE 16 reports the number of patient visits and the number of patients screened at dental schools in the United States and Canada. For dental schools in the United States, the mean number of patient visits at both on-campus clinics and extramural facilities is approximately 66,499 while the mean reported number of patients screened is approximately 6,377.

TABLE 17 lists the accredited advanced dental education programs available at each dental school. There are 331 accredited advanced education programs sponsored by 55 dental schools in the United States: 39 endodontics programs, 11 oral pathology programs, 43 programs in oral and maxillofacial surgery, 47 in orthodontics, 38 in pediatric dentistry, 44 in periodontics, 36 in prosthodontics, 7 in dental public health, 28 accredited general practice residency programs, 38 general dentistry programs and 2 combined specialty programs.

FACULTY POSITIONS

TABLE 18 provides information on faculty positions according to dental school and department. This information was collected through the American Association of Dental School's Survey of Dental Educators, 1991-92.

Full-time and part-time biomedical faculty statistics have been reported in Table 18 for dental schools where the biomedical faculty are within the purview of the school of dentistry. A total of 3,354 full-time and 6,076 part-time faculty members currently teach in dental school clinical departments. A full-time equivalent is defined as a faculty member who is present for teaching, administrative and research responsibilities on a full-time basis, as determined by the dental school. In reporting part-time faculty members, each school listed positions in terms of their full-time equivalence (FTE). For instance, two half-time instructors would be equivalent to one full-time instructor; the FTE of each would be 0.5, and their combined FTE would therefore be 1.0 (one full-time instructor).

DENTAL REPORTS PUBLISHED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATIONAL SURVEYS

The Department of Educational Surveys publishes the Annual Report on Dental Education and supplemental reports on various aspects of dental education yearly. These reports have been listed below according to a revised number system established in 1987. It should be noted that the "Confidential" reports include information which was collected by the Department with the understanding that the resultant reports would not identify specific educational institutions. In this regard, these reports use randomly assigned code numbers for each predoctoral program rather than the name of the institution with the initial distribution of these reports limited to dental schools.
